Kevin Damman studied medicine at the University of Groningen, Netherlands.

It contributes to male attributes such as facial hair and a deepened voice, while affecting a man's libido and even his mood.